

Recently built 4 bedroom ski chalet just above the resort centre of Ste Foy Tarentaise ski resort

Peering down on to the ski front and the Grand Plan ski lift. Only 50 metres to the piste and a couple of minutes walk in to the village centre. The chalet faces south and looks across the ski resort and across the valley giving captivating views from all the levels of accommodation, which all have . . .

The ski resort of Ste Foy is a friendly and intimate resort and has a traditional village feel. The resort has been developed in recent years to a very high standard and all the ski chalets and ski apartments use local materials to blend in naturally with the mountains and pastures using wood and local stones. The ski area has been extended and there are now a good network of pistes and countless off-piste opportunities. The tree-lined runs and forests around the resort lend themselves to a perfect Alpine picture postcard!

With chic restaurants, bars and shops in and a short drive away from the resort and a handful of high quality mountain restaurants, Ste Foy is an exceptional choice for someone looking for a sophisticated, friendly resort without paying the higher prices of the larger, renowned resorts in the area.

The chalet is accessed by an external staircase and entrance is directly into a small hallway which gives way to the large open plan living area. This floor is laid to tiles throughout and has a living area to one side with a large wood-burning fireplace. There is a WC with washbasin and storage cupboards off the living room. From the dining area you can look . . .
